The Many and the Few

As part of the preparation for the Israelites entering the Promised Land, God ordered Moses to count the people. This specific census was not to number every person, but all males age twenty and up who were able to go to war, and it did not include the priestly tribe of Levi. The total count of those numbered was 603,550 (Num. 1:44ff).

Following the census and the final organizational instructions, the Israelites left Sinai headed to Canaan, the Promised Land. Once there, Moses selected one man from among the princes of each tribe, and those twelve were sent to spy out the land. After forty days, they returned with their report. All twelve agreed that the land was just as God described it, a land flowing with milk and honey. But ten of the twelve said they would not be able to take the land, even with God's help. Despite the pleading of faithful Joshua and Caleb, the rest murmured against Moses and God. God was angry with the unbelievers and punished them by sending them to wander in the wilderness for forty years until all those numbered, except for Joshua and Caleb, died in the wilderness, never to see the Promised Land.

This sad example is a great illustration of what Jesus meant when He taught concerning the two paths in life: the broad and wide versus the strait and narrow (Matt. 7:13-14). The many will be on the path to destruction while the few will be on the path to life. In the case of Joshua and Caleb and the Promised Land, the many numbered 603,548, while the few numbered two.

May we, like Joshua and Caleb, put our faith in the promises of God and stand with Him, no matter what those around us do.

Choosing the Right Road

Matthew 7:13-14

“Enter by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and there are many who go in by it. Because narrow is the gate and difficult is the way which leads to life, and there are few who find it.”
