What Am I Worth?

The worth of something can be measured in various ways. For instance, a Lincoln copper penny from 1943 is worth $20,000-$50,000 in circulated condition, or $80,000-$100,000 in uncirculated condition. However, if someone were to spend it not knowing it was a rare coin, it would be worth only one cent. The value of something depends on the viewpoint of the evaluator.

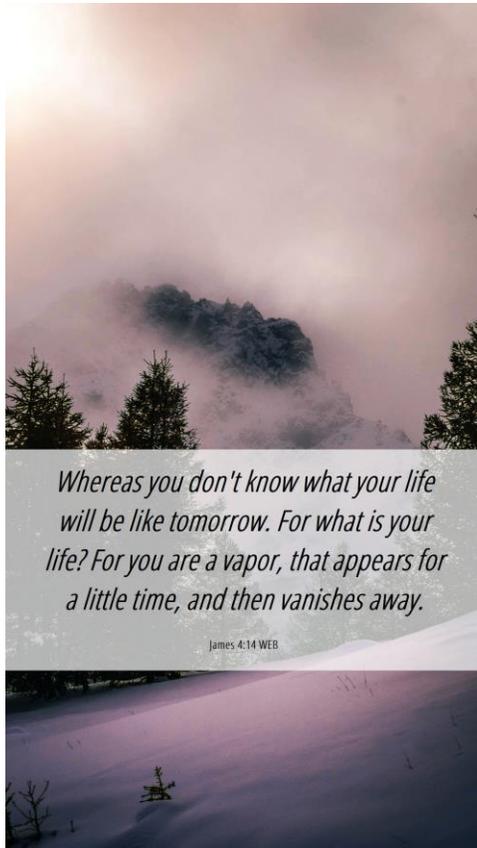

What about a human being? The current worth of a human body in its elements is about $4.50; the skin is worth $3.50 and the rest about $1. Yet on the black market for organs, a person might bring more than half a million dollars. In the business world, however, the right person doing the right job might be considered invaluable.

Regardless of the monetary value of a typical person, his worth is only temporary. Sure, there are monuments, plaques, and buildings with people's names on them, but what real value is there is that? After just a generation or so, most people will have been pretty much forgotten. Old cemeteries are filled with graves whose markers are no longer legible. Even on those that can be read, how many remember who they were? The Bible tells us that life is short: For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away (James 4:14). →

The true value of a person is not determined by the amount of money he earned during his life or the assets he accumulated, for a price cannot be placed on the worth of a soul. One's true worth is determined solely by his response to the word of God. God's son Jesus paid an immeasurable price on the cross, proving the value He and the Father place on the soul of man. When we stand before the judgment seat of Christ, we will stand either among the redeemed, or we will stand among those who have been deemed worthless and will be cast off forever.

The choice is ours to make. My prayer is that each of us will choose the path to unlimited value, to eternity in heaven.

~Freeman
