Is Life Fair?

Consider how it would be if all of life were fair: Everyone would live the same number of years; all would die of old age; there would be no need for children's hospitals; everyone would have an enjoyable job that paid well. Who hasn't been asked, after complaining about the fairness of a situation, "Who ever told you life is fair?" The Bible clearly teaches that good people suffer (Job 1-2) and evil people prosper (Luke 16:19ff).

No matter how tough we think we have it or how unfair life seems to be, we recognize that there are those who are worse off than we are. When we see the suffering of innocent children, the terminal diseases of those "too young" to die, and the economic hardships caused by natural disasters, we realize how blessed we have been in our lives. We understand that any events we might perceive as unfair pale in comparison with the unfortunate circumstances of so many others.

The real lesson for us is that while this earthly life may not be fair, the offer of eternal salvation and a place in heaven is fair. God is righteous and fair. He has made the same offer to all: If we are willing to submit to His word, we will benefit from His promises. Just as He allows the rain to fall on the just and the unjust (Matt. 5:45), He has extended His grace which brings salvation to all men (Titus 2:11ff). He gave His son to be the propitiation for the sins of the world (1 John 4:10), and Jesus is the author of eternal salvation to all who obey Him (Heb. 5:8-9).

No one, not even our dear sweet mothers, told us life would be fair. But our heavenly Father has promised us that He will be fair. He will bless those who obey Him and curse those who do not. Isn't that as fair as it can be? Let us make the choice to obey Him.
