Why Should I Study My Bible?

One of the first things our young people learned in the Sunday evening KidSing activity was that “the Bible” and “God’s word” are synonymous. Most everyone here understands that the Holy Scriptures contain very important words for us to consider, believe, and obey. But despite this knowledgeable agreement, most of us do not regularly study our Bibles. Consider the following scriptural reasons why we should be more interested in spending time in the Word.

In the midst of a serious discussion Jesus was having with Jews who were accusing and persecuting Him and His disciples, He said to them, “(You) Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of Me” (John 5:39). He responded the Sadducees who were trying to trip Him up, “Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God” (Matt. 22:29). In total agreement, Paul wrote, “And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim 3:15). Finally, Paul also wrote that All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable ... that the man of God be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works (2 Tim 3:16-17).

So why should I study the Bible? What's in it for me? This inspired book contains many words spoken by our Lord, as well as by the inspired prophets and apostles. These words contain God's only instruction to mankind for obtaining eternal salvation. What could be more important than that?
