Un...

Many will remember this scene from the 1970's. This man was the face of 7-Up, selling the soft drink as the "Uncola." He compared the taste of "dried up cola nuts" to the freshness of lemons and limes, calling the fruit the "uncola nuts."

We find the prefix un in several instances in the Bible – unrighteous, ungodly, unjust, unbelieving, etc. Let's consider the idea of un and how it can affect us:

- For the grace of God which bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world (Titus 2:11-12).
- For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God, and it if first begin with us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God; and if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear (1 Pet. 4:17-18).

- For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit (1 Pet. 3:18).

These passages allow us to compare the root words with their un-words. Christ, the sinless One, is just, while mankind – guilty of sin – is unjust. The righteous and godly are those who do what is right in the sight of God, while the ungodly are those interested in worldly lusts. Those in the house of God are the righteous, while those who do not obey the gospel of God are the ungodly and sinful.

Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? (1 Cor. 6:9). We have a tendency to link unrighteousness with specific acts which are unlawful and ungodly – fornication, adultery, covetousness, lying, stealing, etc. Yet there are good, moral people who are not guilty of the sins in the various “lists” in the New Testament, but who are going to be counted among the unrighteous and ungodly at the judgment because they have not submitted to and obeyed God. The “ungodly” and “unrighteous” are simply those who are not pleasing and acceptable to God.

Cola or uncola – it’s our choice. Of far greater importance is the choice we make to be righteous or unrighteous, godly or ungodly. Let us strive to be counted with the righteous and the godly so we may receive the benefits of the grace of God – eternal life.

MEMORY VERSES – 1 Peter 1:20-21:

<sup>20</sup>He indeed was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you <sup>21</sup>who through Him believe in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.
