After the Miracle — Then What?

Luke 17:11–19

When Jesus healed the ten lepers, something amazing happened, their lives were instantly changed. No more isolation. No more shame. No more sickness. For the first time in years, they could go home, hug their families, and walk freely into the temple.

But here's the question... what happened next?

Nine of them kept going. They enjoyed the blessing, but they didn't go back to the One who gave it. Only one turned around.

When we think of this passage, we usually focus on gratitude, and we should. But let's look at it another way:

What do you do after God blesses you?

Do you just move on? Or does that blessing change how you live from that moment forward?

Sometimes the real test of faith isn't in the moment of crisis, it's in what we do after the crisis is over. Do we draw closer to God, or do we drift away once life feels safe again?

This week, think about your own story. If Jesus has healed you, forgiven you, or provided for you, what will you do next? Don't just enjoy the blessing. Live in a way that keeps you close to the Blessor.
